

HENRY NGUYEN

-Web Developer-

PROFILE

Hello there!

In January 2018. I decided to make a career change after 13 years in the logistics industry and to teach myself how to code. I started my journey on CodeSchool.com, and then moved onto Team Treehouse. Where I completed my “Front End Developer” track as well as my “Full Stack JavaScript” track.

Does this mean I’m an expert now? Heck no! I still consider myself a beginner and a continuous learner which is why I love the world of code and tech. It’s always evolving!

What’s more important to me is to join a team that can help mentor and nurture their junior members of the team to take them from B & C players, into A+ players of the team!

EDUCATION
